

Camp STAR is Chicagoland’s only evidence-based therapeutic program where children learn to manage behavioral, emotional, social & learning issues in a fun day camp setting.

This unique seven-week day camp will help children learn invaluable skills including:

Social Behavior	Sports Competence
Following Rules	Anger Management
Friendship Skills	Academic aptitude
Problem-Solving Skills	Self Esteem

UIC’s clinicians collaborate with JCYS’ camp experts to create a memorable camp experience. Campers enjoy the daily recreation of team sports and swimming, while learning the rules and building athletic skills. Led by a teacher, children play educational computer games, express creativity through arts and crafts, and attend the Academic Learning Center each day. Our 1-to-2 staff-to-camper ratio allows us to consistently monitor and modify if necessary each child’s treatment plan.

Children ages 6-12 with ADHD, oppositional disorders, aggression, learning issues, and social challenges caused by high-functioning Autism/Asperger’s syndrome.

To register, call (312) 996-6923 or visit www.jcys.org/campstar

- The program includes the following Recreational Activities & Treatments:
- Sports & Swimming
 - Point/Token Economy System
 - Social Skills Training
 - Problem Solving
 - Sports Skills Development
 - Daily Report Cards
 - Individualized Reward Programs
 - Weekly Parent Training
 - Optional Medication Assessments
 - After-Camp Support & Services
 - Computer, Arts & Crafts, & Academics

Camp Dates: M–F, June 16 – Aug. 1, 2008
Camp Times: 8:00 am – 4:00 pm
Location: Wayne Thomas School
2939 Summit Ave., Highland Park, IL

Camp STAR is a private camp and collaboration between UIC and JCYS. It is not affiliated with District 112.

